

Wendel Buhbi

—
Seattle, WA

21 MARCH 2021

ANNALS of PHYSICS

Dear Editor,

I am sure you are well aware of the Hubble tension and receive many papers in relation to it.

What I've done here is altered Hubble's law, and in turn the units of its constant, in a way that matches the observed acceleration of the redshifts, with a static constant and no other parameters..

This may sound extreme, but I think the result is rather compelling. Enjoy.

Wendel Buhbi